Energy Efficiency Self Assessments

We will provide attendees with a brief history of energy efficiency opportunities for water and wastewater utilities. This session will include information, guidance, and documentation on how to conduct a simplified self assessment for your utility, common issues and deficiencies which exist in our industry, and proven technologies and operational changes that could conserve energy demand and save valuable financial resources for your system.

Further, we will provide attendees with links to useful tools and databases used in conducting energy assessments. This information will include what information is required to conduct an assessment, how to properly input the data, where to download these resources, and how to create a report to document the findings for presentation to your elected officials.

3:30 pm Closing Remarks/Certificates
